

2019-20

The BPO recently announced the dates for next season's Music for Youth concerts and I wanted you to have them so that you can start planning a return visit to Kleinhans Music Hall. Please note that the "Music and Emotion" concerts are designed specifically for middle school students and will explore familiar, musical elements and themes and how they are utilized within the music. Please click on the image below to make a reservation or use this link for information on all of our concerts for the 2019-20 season.

Music and Emotion

How do musicians and composers create meaning through music? Whether it is communicating an emotion or feeling, telling a story, or interpreting a musical statement, musicians, conductors and composers are masters of the art of expression. Through active listening, students will investigate the tools of this musical language, and become creators of meaning themselves.
